Dr. Porter believes that:

- Children have learning challenges because they don't know how to learn, they don't have the skills or strategies that make learning possible
- All children have innate abilities that can be used to help overcome learning challenges
- Parents know their children better than anyone else and, given the right information and advice, can make a huge difference in their child's ability to learn.
- Parents' role is to 'set the scene' for learning so their child can benefit from schooling.
